

Toward a NEGF description of photoexcited organic molecules

Gianluca Stefanucci

We describe the current state of the art of the NEGF description of photoexcited organic molecules and provide an outlook on the challenges for next generation NEGF simulations.